

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, April 17. 1708.

From the Paris Gazette, dated April 21.

Madrid, April 3.

WE have receiv'd Advice from the Frontiers of Portugal, that the Campaign was to be open'd there before the End of this Month; that the Marquis de Bay was to command the chief Army on the side of Badajoz, the Duke of Ossuna another Body in Andaloufia, and the Marquis of Blancas a flying Camp on the side of Estramadura. They write from the Kingdom of Valencia, that the Garrisons of Alicant and Denia suffer'd very much for want of Provisions, which made many of the Soldiers Desert. The Duke of Orleans does all he can to get together the Necessaries for opening the Campaign early in Catalonia, where the Enemy intend to put all their Infantry into the Towns that yet remain in their Hands, and to keep the Field with their Cavalry only, which is about 6000 strong, but not in a very good Condition.

From the Amst. and Leid. Gaz. dated April 24.

Madrid, April 3. All our Troops are well nigh compleat, and ready to take the Field. The Grandees have all of them made Free-Gifts to the King towards the Expences of the War, each of them in proportion to his Revenues: And M. Amelot Ambassador from France, has labour'd with so good Success, to re-establish the Finances of the Monarchy, which were near exhausted, that he has put them once more upon a good Foot. The King holds Councils of War every Day with the Duke of Orleans and with the other Generals, concerning the Operations of the ensuing Campaign. The Duke of Orleans was dissatisfied upon his arrival here, not to find all things ready for the opening the Campaign, as he was made to believe they were: But he has lately had a Remittance of 40000 Louis-d'Ors from France, and expects from thence a greater Sum, for the Payment of the French Troops in this Kingdom. That Prince is to set out the 15th of this Month for Saragossa, from whence he is to go and put himself at the Head of the Army, that is to act on the Frontiers of Catalonia; but we do not yet hear that the Troops which are to form it are march'd out of their Winter-Quarters. They write from Lerida, that the Catalans continu'd to put themselves in a Condition of Defence, and that some Vessels from Naples were arriv'd at Barcelona. The Troops that are to compose the Army under the Marquis de Bay in Estramadura, are in full March to take the Field; mean while we have receiv'd Advice, that the Portugueze are encamp'd already; and that they have reinforc'd the Garrison of Almeyda to the Number of 2000 Foot, and 500 Horse. On Sunday last an Express was dispatch'd from hence to Cadiz, to carry thither some Orders touching the Departure of the Flota design'd for New Spain. They write from Cadiz of the 11th of last Month, that a French Frigot was arriv'd there in 30 Days from the Havans, but that the News she brought was not made publick: The Crew nevertheless confirm'd that a Squadron of the Enemy was come to cruise on the Coast of the Spanish Terra-Firma. We have not yet any News of the French Ships and Spanish Galleys, that sail'd lately from Carthagena to carry Succours to Mazalquivir.

Paris, April 16. The Day for the Departure of the Two Troops of Mulqueeters that are to go for Flanders is not yet fix'd. On the 18th the King will view the Gendarmes and the Light Horse of his Guards. There is no longer any talk of the Duke of Berry's making the Campaign in Flanders. The Duke of Vendome is expected to Day at Versailles; from whence 'tis said he is to set out the 29th of this Month, to go and take the Waters of St. Amand in Flanders, and that he will take the Field the 20th of the next. The King has declar'd that M. Villars shall keep upon the Defensive only, the next Campaign on the Upper Rhine, that the Duke of Vendome may act Offensively in Flanders; where 'tis said he shall have an army of 100000 Men. The Queen Dowager of England has been visit'd by the King, and all the Court, since the ill success of the Attempt upon Scotland: She has earnestly desir'd the King that the pretended Prince of Wales may return to St. Germain, and not make the Campaign in Flanders: But 'tis said the King has rejected this her Request, and represent'd to her the Necessity of that Prince's being instruct'd in the Art of War, which may one Day contribute very much to put him in Possession of his Kingdoms; an Express however is sent to him, to desire that he would return to St. Germain; where 'tis thought his Stay will be short, and that he will return to Flanders to make the Campaign in Quality of a Volunteer, by the Name of the Chevalier or Knight of St. George: Count Forbin is still at Court, but 'tis said he is soon to return to Dunkirk, to see the Squadron alarm'd and laid up. All the Officers who are to Command on our Coasts this Summer, have Orders to repair thither forthwith. The King has at length consented to the Neutrality of the Principality of Neufchâtel, and even ratified the Treaty concluded to that purpose with the Swiss: But his Majesty reserves the Decision of the French Pretenders to the general Peace. They write from Versailles of the 8th of this Month, that they were fitting out there with all Diligence 5 Galleys and 14 Men of War at Toulon, and that these Vessels were design'd to carry French Succours into the Island of Sicily and Sardinia. The Misfortune of the Design upon Scotland very much troubles the King, and all the Court, though they do all they can to conceal their uneasiness.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated April 24.

Paris, April, 20. The Duke of Berwick had on Tuesday last a long Conference with the King, and took the Oaths as Marshal of France and Gouverneur of the Limousin. The same Day the Chevalier of Luxembourg took the Oaths likewise as Lieutenant-General of Flanders. The Day following the King went to Marli. The last Advices from Madrid of the 7th Instant say, that the Marquis de Bay was to open the Campaign against Portugal the 25th of this Month, and that the Duke of Orleans would not be ready to act against Catalonia till the 3d or 4th of May. Monday next is the day that the Duke of Vendome has fix'd his departure for Lille. We hear from Court, that the Duke of Berwick will Command on the Moselle, in case the Report holds good, that Prince Eugene will Command an Army on that River.

From

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 24.

Hague, April 22. Prince Eugene of Savoy set out from hence on Friday last in the Evening to return to Germany by the Way of Utrecht. The Duke of Marlborough went likewise from hence this Morning for Hanover, and some other Courts of Germany. Major General Cadogan, and several other Officers are likewise gone hence for Brabant. We hear from Brussels that M. d'Anverquerque is on the mending hand.

Falmouth, April 10. This Day was sent in as Prize a Privateer of 6 Guns and 50 Men, taken by 2 Flushing Privateers, who were in Chace of two large French Privateers. In the Prince Pacquet-Boat, that is arriv'd from Lisbon, came several Officers, who report, that Sir John Leake arriv'd 4 Days before they left Lisbon; and that he was preparing to go up the Streights with 30 Men of War.

Shields, April 12. Admiral Baker, with 11 Men of War, and the Transport-Ships, continue here, the Wind being contrary. Sir George Byng is gone by to the Southward.
